This is the one where the landing gear, of a helicopter, suddenly comes into view. The strange thing is that the landing gear is perfectly in focus together with the zoomed-in background. This is included, briefly, in the SVT first-broadcast. The original source is FOX 5.

See the "Longintro" for many problems with the FOX 5 broadcast.

This shot is similar, but this one is (currently) not confirmed to have been broadcast on TV.

We note that the sound of a helicopter can be heard on the audio tape from within another helicopter. ISN'T THAT FANTASTIC ??

This seems to be a NEW shot, that was rendered for this documentary (102 Minutes That Changed America 2008).

Note the "bridge" that is floating in the picture and moving to the left. This bridge is moving all over the place. See analysis in September Clues. Also see FANTASTIC ending of the clip, with the blurry FOX 5 rendering now (first time!) in full colour. Can you see where the picture was cut and composited? (Check "Fullspeed 911" and look for the yellow arrow "... draw the line..."; special edit, with red dotted lines later)
